

 language model (Claude; stochastic, every value sourced) deterministic code (version-pinned, tested)

 user

The language model sets no number used in a calculation: it proposes sourced inputs (1-2) and writes prose (7).
Every value in the report comes from the deterministic engine (4-6); the audit lists any number in the text it cannot match.